SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

The Prince's Government and the whole destination are committed to addressing sustainable development issues in everything they do, every day.

For more information about the sectors of excellence that make the Principality the perfect MICE destination, see our brochure Unexpected Monaco

A SUSTAINABLE DESTINATION

Since acceding to the throne in 2005, H.S.H. Prince Albert II of Monaco has been wedded to a strong policy aimed at promoting sustainable development on the national and international stage. Actions are focused on biodiversity, resources management, and greenhouse gas reductions.

To achieve these ambitious goals, the Mission for Energy Transition was created in 2016 on the wishes of H.S.H Prince Albert II.

The Destination and its partners are already adopting solutions to ensure that resources are managed in the most efficient way possible. Most hotels have opted for environmental certification, while soft mobility is being promoted through the development of a public transport network and efficient intermodal solutions. Awareness-raising actions are organised regularly to showcase our commitment not just to the environment, but to society too.

The environment, social issues, sustainability, responsibility... These are not just words. In Monaco, they are a real priority for all. That's why, in 2022, the Monaco Government Tourist and Convention Authority, which is a signatory to the Glasgow Declaration (<https://www.unwto.org/the-glasgow-declaration-on-climate-action-in-tourism>), set up a dedicated unit specifically to address social and environmental responsibility issues, under the leadership of Estelle Antognelli.

The Monaco Convention Bureau has also signed the Linkeus ethical and responsible charter:

<https://www.linkeus.fr/charte-ethique-et-responsable/>.

<https://energy-transition.gouv.mc/Energy-Transition>

For more information: <https://en.gouv.mc/Portail-du-Gouvernement/Policy-Practice/The-Environment/Publications/Energy-Transition-White-Paper-of-Monaco>

The Principality has adopted a regulatory strategy aimed at phasing out single-use plastics gradually in preparation for a complete ban on their use by 2030. Commerce Engagé® and Restaurant Engagé® are official labels awarded by the Monaco Department of the Environment and the association Ecoscience Provence, designed to help local stakeholders and consumers adopt more sustainable practices. Shops and restaurants with Commerce Engagé® and Restaurant Engagé® certification make efforts every day to reduce and sort waste, combat food waste, reduce their energy and water use, and promote awareness of sustainability issues with their customers.

For more information: <https://cvb.visitmonaco.com/en/environment/47023/responsible-tourism-white-paper>

The result of a project begun in 2020, the White Paper on Sustainable Tourism comes at a time when the tourism sector, affected by the health crisis, is becoming acutely aware of its responsibilities and the need to rethink certain models.

The aim of this document, based on surveys, benchmarks, and dialogue with stakeholders, is to provide a better understanding of current tourism in Monaco, to identify its strengths and weaknesses in order to lay the foundations for tourism in the future, and to make it more sustainable by drawing inspiration from the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals and the Principality's own Energy Transition targets. The White Paper was prepared as part of a collegiate approach led by the Monaco Government Tourist and Convention Authority and the firm François Tourisme Consultants, along with all of the destination's partners, and support from the Mission for Energy Transition and the Department of the Environment.

To ensure your trip is as sustainable as it can be, the Tourist and Convention Authority has created a handy online carbon calculator:

<https://cvb.visitmonaco.com/en/47022/calculate-the-carbon-footprint-of-your-event-in-monaco>

Finally, to help you find the right solutions for organising more socially and environmentally responsible events, the Tourist and Convention Authority has published its Sustainable Event Manager's Guide.

For more information: <https://www.visitmonaco.com/en/environment/38729/objective-zero-single-use-plastics>

Play your part in bringing about change, by offering sustainable tourism activities.

TERRAE

Terrae works to promote urban agriculture, mainly through environmentally-friendly fruits and vegetable gardens on the ground and on the rooftops of Monaco's buildings. The innovative concept aims to make the best possible use of flat spaces, by creating plots used to grow fruit, vegetables, aromatic herbs, and edible flowers.

<https://terrae.green/>

«NATURE» TOURS

Monaco has a wide variety of natural sites, with diverse landscapes and ecosystems. To raise awareness about these protected sites, the Principality and its different stakeholders regularly organise fun and interactive guided tours.

SUSTAINABLE EVENTS

For your next incentive trip or team building exercise, choose from the many sustainable and environmentally-friendly activities available. Our specialist destination management companies offer activities in line with the commitments adopted by the Prince's Government.

PARKS & GARDENS IN MONACO

The Principality of Monaco is the second smallest independent state in the world. Parks and gardens occupy around 470,000 m<sup>2</sup> or 20% of the 2 km<sup>2</sup> country. The Princess Grace Rose Garden, the Jardins de la Petite-Afrique, the St. Martin Gardens, and the Japanese Garden are among the best known, but Monaco has many other public and private green spaces. It is important to protect this “green heritage”, and a number of initiatives have been set up to ensure its conservation.

« PELAGOS » MARINE SANCTUARY

The Pelagos Sanctuary was established on 25 November 1999 by an agreement signed in Rome by the Principality of Monaco, Italy, and France. The agreement created a conservation area for marine mammals in the Mediterranean. The aim is to protect whales, dolphins, and seals and their habitats from all causes of disturbance, including pollution, noise, accidental capture, and injury. The sanctuary, located in an area known as the Corso-Liguro-Provençal Basin, is home to some 8,500 macroscopic animal species representing between 4 and 18% of the world’s marine species. Whales Watching Monaco, developed in collaboration with the Prince Albert II Foundation, invites visitors to share one of the most exclusive experiences to be found anywhere on the Côte d’Azur. Accompanied by qualified professionals, and with complete respect for the environment, Whales Watching Monaco will take you to observe the majestic marine mammals of the PELAGOS sanctuary.

THE GRIMALDI FORUM: LOOKING FORWARD TO 2025

As part of the land reclamation project that will create a new district in the Principality of Monaco, the Grimaldi Forum is set to be extended, to create a new flexible, multi-purpose infrastructure.

Already a world leader in the events industry, the Grimaldi Forum Monaco will be improved even further with the new urban development increasing its exhibition space by 50%, gaining an additional 6,000 m<sup>2</sup>. The new space will allow the centre to host even bigger events, host multiple events simultaneously, and provide greater flexibility, opening up the possibility of more original events.

It represents a unique opportunity and a genuine asset, adding to the destination's international appeal. The future Grimaldi Forum extension, a new flexible, multi-purpose space, will have its own separate entrance and will also be connected directly to the rest of the building via the Diaghilev exhibition hall.
